The Hole is a world to which a young Alvin unwittingly traveled while he was discovering his powers. It's a world, divided into two great regions. One, the surface, where humans live and the other, the so-called Hole, where the so-called "monsters" live.

It was the time he spent in this world that inspired Alvin to become a knight and become Jacques de Aldesberg. After the humans entered a second war against the "monsters" of The Hole who intended to use The White Frost to destroy humans from the surface and make the world totally their own because unlike humans, they had enough capacity to survive the deadly cold.

Trivia

- The Elder Blood that Alvin possessed made him a very important figure in that world.
